

Young Changemakers Programme

THE IGNITE EDITION

Director's Desk

Encouraging Learning and Innovation

Dear Changemakers,

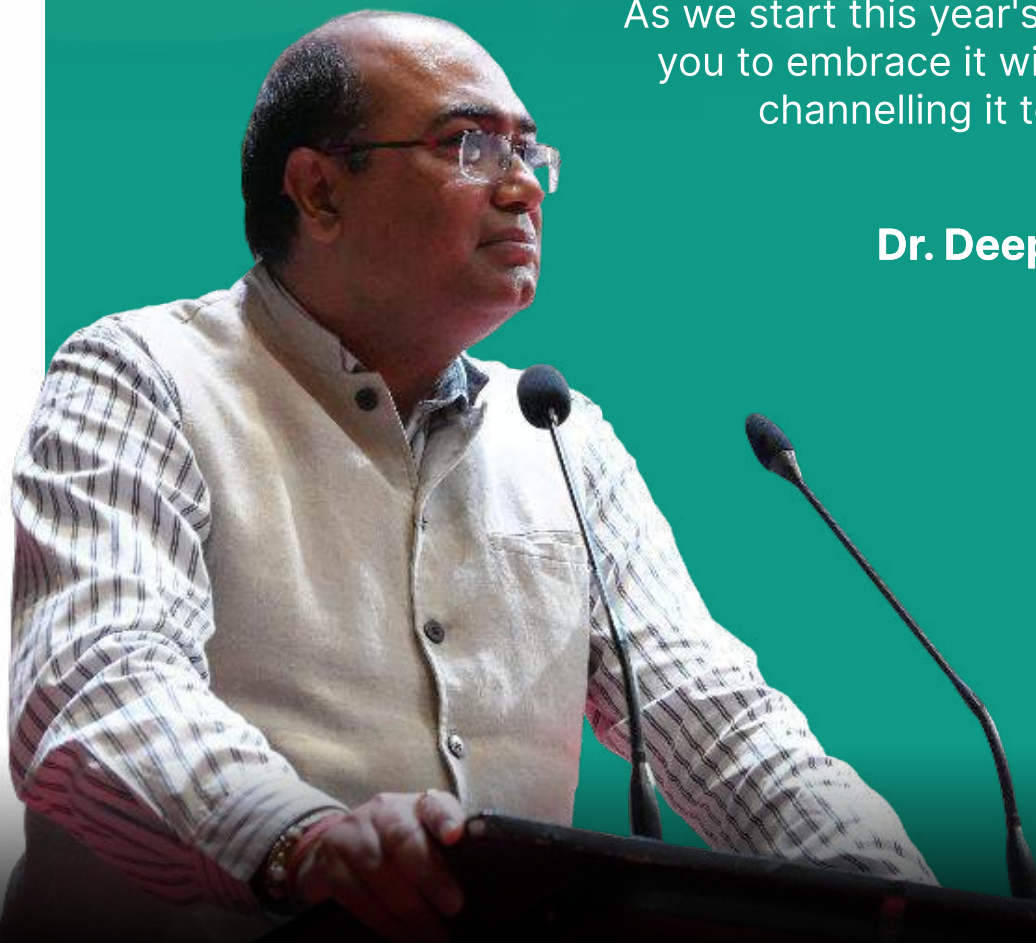

It gives me immense joy to welcome you to this year's Young Changemakers Programme, an experience meant to stay with you long beyond your time here. At its heart is the belief that every individual has the power to ignite change that extends far beyond themselves, especially in a world being reshaped daily by society, technology, and climate.

At IIM Ranchi, we see leadership not as a position but as a responsibility to serve with empathy, listen deeply, and act with courage. This programme is your space to dream boldly, to collaborate with peers from diverse walks of life, and to create solutions that uphold both innovation and human dignity.

This experience is shaped by committed faculty, guided by industry mentors, and enriched by your own self-reflection. Through the Rural Immersion Bootcamp, you will step into realities different from your own, hear unheard voices, and find wisdom in the everyday.

As we start this year's journey together, I urge you to embrace it with wonder and empathy, channelling it towards positive change.

Nurturing Ideas into Impact

Dear Changemakers,

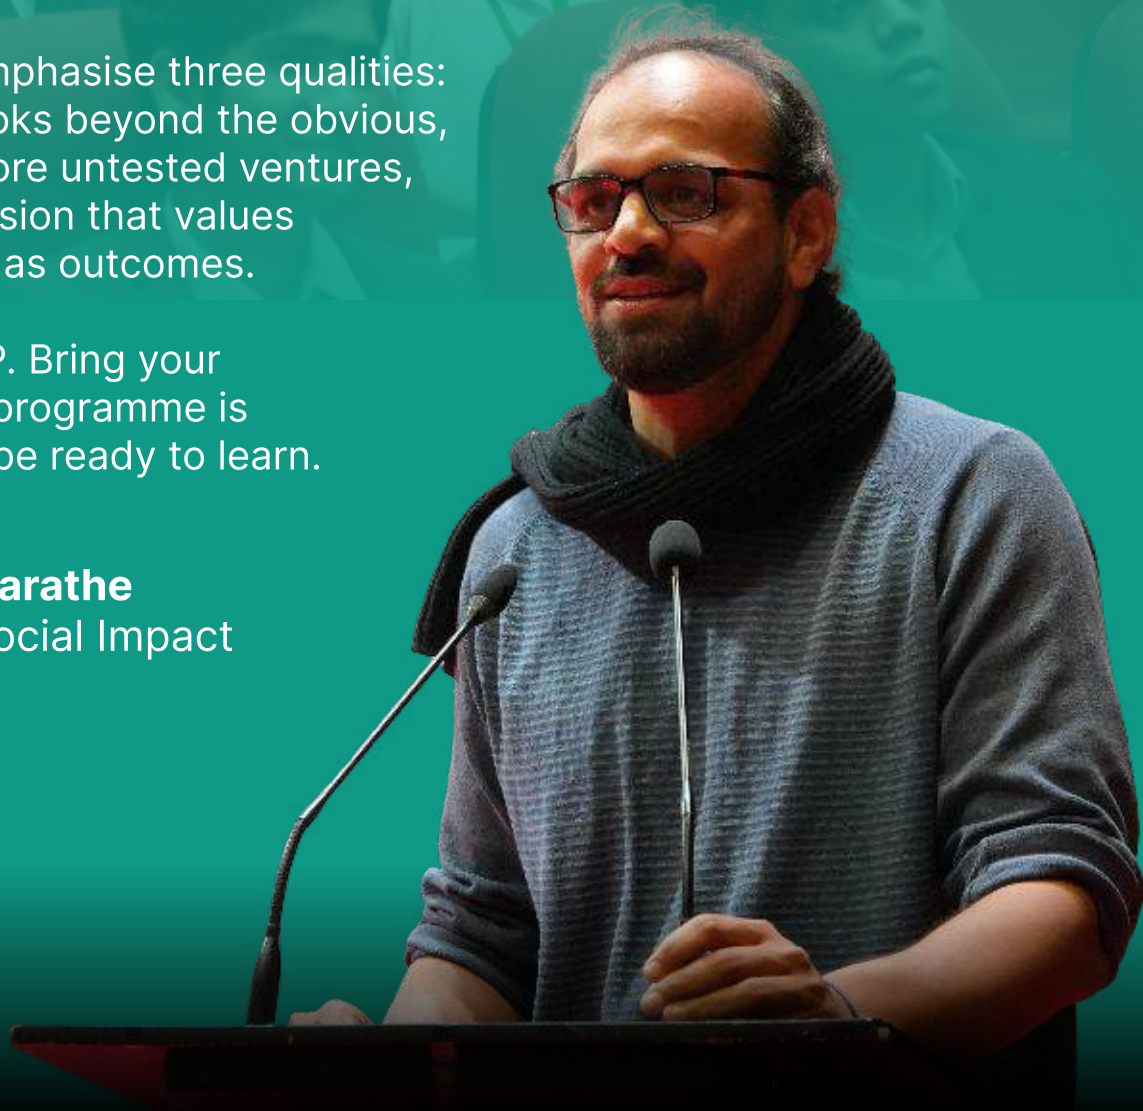

YCP begins where textbooks end; by stepping into real lives, real challenges, and real possibilities for impact. Each year we invite young minds to step into rural India, listen before they speak, and design not just for the communities but with them. Over five intense days, you will live a live case: walk the lanes, map resources, ideate small solutions, and test them with the very people you aim to serve. The work is humble, sometimes messy, but always human.

In the past editions, students from across India and beyond have joined us, proving that purpose has no postcode. We have seen small conversations change perspectives and thoughts ignite into a passionate fire for innovation. Not only this, but we have managed to create a nexus of alumni that support collaboration and mentorship across the cohorts.

This year, we emphasise three qualities: curiosity that looks beyond the obvious, courage to explore untested ventures, and the compassion that values dignity as much as outcomes.

Welcome to YCP. Bring your whole self. The programme is ready to teach; be ready to learn.

Young Changemakers

The Next Generation of Social Entrepreneurs

Stepping beyond the boundaries of textbooks and traditional classrooms, the Young Changemakers Programme aims to empower potential young leaders in possession of a socially conscious spirit and an entrepreneurial mindset. This initiative aims to broaden the perspective of these innovative minds through exposure to real-world challenges of communities in rural India, as well as encourage them to develop business-oriented solutions for the same.

Participants are encouraged to view social challenges as not only problems to be solved but also opportunities for innovation. This ensures that their solutions are not only impactful but also financially viable and sustainable over the years. This programme fosters a sense of community that extends beyond the bootcamp with a thriving alumni network. It facilitates knowledge transfer, collaborative action, and solidifies a legacy of perpetual growth and positive change.

We believe that students from all over the world will carry this legacy of impact back with them and spread a culture of curiosity, initiative and innovation wherever they go.

YCP 4.0 - The Ignite Edition

Sparking Ideas, Shaping Leaders

This year, YCP will not only be about learning, but building together.

At the Young Changemakers Programme, every student holds the potential to be the catalyst of change. Every edition has been a promise to support these catalysts and their call to action. This year, we are focusing on the changemakers' ideas.

The moment a raw idea catches fire, fueled by knowledge, mentorship and a need for change is transformational. We are providing them with the tinder, tools and support needed to transform these sparks into blazing torches of change.

We are not just nurturing ideas, but empowering them to become architects of their purpose. Here, we will translate empathy into action and ambition into impact.
